“Waifs hired from off the street usher them into an empty and barren gallery. The only artifact in the room is what appears to be a life-sized sculpture, but is, in fact, the main attraction: the Şehrazatın Diyoraması.”—Selena “S.J.” Chambers, “The Şehrazatın Diyoraması”

The all-new Erie-based Hex Publishers website now offers short fiction selected by editor Joshua Viola from upcoming projects, affiliated authors, and other sources. Editorial content and free downloads will also be offered, as well as previews of upcoming projects. New monthly content will include fiction by writers Stephen Graham Jones, Carrie Vaughn, Betsy Dornbusch, Manuel Ramos and others. To read free short fiction now, visit HexPublishers.com/words.html.

“It squats there like a castle in the dark. See, I’m smart. I can read. I seen books, lifted handhelds. Castles used to look just like this: big and blank and beautiful.”—Jason Heller, “Behold: Skowt!”

HexPublishers.com also features contributor biographies, information on upcoming projects, and news. Keep an eye on this space as we add more features to celebrate the upcoming release of Cyber World: Tales of Humanity’s Tomorrow, the exciting new cyberpunk anthology from Hugo Award-winner, Jason Heller, and Joshua Viola. Featuring such exciting talent as E. Lily Yu, Paolo Bacigalupi, Nisi Shawl, Alyssa Wong and Mario Acevedo. Cyber World comes out November 8, 2016.
